

ODW Logistics E-News

November 2011

Looking to ramp up resources for the holiday season?

Our strategically-located 300,000 sq. ft. state-of-the-art Southern California warehouse is available for immediate occupancy! Located in San Bernardino, California, at I-10 and I-215, this warehouse provides easy highway and rail access and features our latest productivity-focused tools, offering reliable and secure cross-platform capability. The experienced staff of industry-trained professionals, many of whom have worked in this warehouse since its opening in 2007, will ensure your transportation, warehousing and distribution needs are handled accurately and in a cost-effective way. With a superb safety record of 1200 plus days of working safe (the company record!) they will exceed your expectations during the busiest of seasons. (Access to FTZ and enterprise improvement zone with training incentives, including LAMBRA job creation tax credits.)

Dist-Trans is coming to California!

ODW and Dist-Trans are investing in California. We are available to provide services to both existing customers who are looking for an asset-based solution as well as prospective customers. We can solve your transportation needs, including intrastate asset authority in California as well as new units and tools, such as yard-spotting.

New value-added parcel service

In 2011, ODW made significant investments in technology and expertise to complete the transportation management services profile. With the asset-based transportation offerings through Dist-Trans for over 30 years and the 2009 addition of LTL, truckload, intermodal, courier and international services through LTS, the only missing link for total transportation management was a parcel service offering.

ODW ships thousands upon thousands of packages from our warehouse facilities each day. Within our service offering we will have a program that has leveraged all of this freight to give our customers the best combination of service and price available.

The value-added services that will be available include:

- Competitive pricing with potential for significant cost reduction
- Variety of parcel carriers
- In-house Freight Payment Management
- Invoice Verification (audit) and Dispute
- Claims Management
- Transit Time Benchmarking
- Service Performance Verification and Benchmarking
- Customized Reporting
- RFP Support

We will take the complexity out of the parcel shipping process, optimize your solution to reduce costs and improve service, and make your organization more efficient and profitable!

Please contact us today to find out how you can be involved in our parcel program.
